Fernet-Branca × Tommy Winkler

"Trying Every Fernet & Coke Combo for the World Cup"

A World Cup-themed experiment built for Tommy's format — where endurance meets entertainment and one combo takes the crown.

Why This Works for Tommy

This isn't a new direction — it's Tommy's existing format, supercharged. The ingredients are already there. All we're doing is elevating them.

"Try Everything" Energy

Tommy's audience already expects him to go all-in. This format hands him an entire lineup to tear through.

High-Stakes Endurance

The more rounds, the more the audience leans in. Chaos builds loyalty — viewers stay for the finish.

Clear Payoff

One winner. No ambiguity. That single outcome drives clicks, comments, and completion rate.

This isn't a pivot. It's a power-up. The DNA is Tommy's. The scale is Fernet-Branca's.

The Format: Simple = Strong

The One-Sentence Pitch

Tommy tries every Fernet + Coke variation and crowns a single winner.

Why Simplicity Wins

→ Fast-Paced

No slow intros. No lengthy setup. Straight into the action from second one.

→ Escalating Chaos

Every combo adds energy. The momentum never drops — it only builds.

→ Clear Finish Line

Audiences know where they're headed. That clarity keeps them watching to the end.

The Hook

The first 5 seconds decide everything. The hook must feel like his content — not a brand moment. Start with movement, not product.

01

Tommy Juggling / Dribbling

Open on Tommy with a soccer ball — pure energy, pure him. Establishes tone before a word is spoken.

02

The Drop → Camera Whip

Ball drops. Camera snaps to the table loaded with drinks. The pivot is the punchline. Instant intrigue.

03

"Today I'm Trying EVERY Fernet & Coke Combo..."

The line lands with the table already in frame. Product is introduced through context, not announcement.

Feels like his content, not an ad. The brand enters naturally — after the energy, not before it.

The Build: Content Structure

The video mirrors the architecture of Tommy's best-performing content — momentum-driven, reaction-first, never slow. Every round feeds the next.

Round-by-Round Tasting

Each combo gets its moment. Fast, punchy, and decisive — no lingering. The pace keeps viewers locked in.

Immediate Reactions

Tommy's authentic reactions — love it, hate it — are the content. Good combos get cheers, bad combos a red card.

Unexpected Favorites & Upsets

The surprises are where the magic lives. A dark-horse combo advancing keeps the audience guessing every round.

Goal: controlled chaos, not slow review. Energy ramps as combos stack — by the final round, the audience is all the way in.

The Twist: World Cup Framing

What separates this from any other taste-test video is the narrative spine. World Cup tournament framing turns a list of drinks into a competition with stakes.

Tournament-Style Progression

Combos face off in rounds. Some advance. Some get eliminated. The structure creates suspense that a simple ranking never could.

"Advancing" vs "Eliminated"

Sports language makes every verdict feel momentous. Viewers argue the calls just like they argue referee decisions.

Commentary-Style Reactions

Tommy leans into the sportscaster energy. Over-the-top play-by-play transforms tasting notes into entertainment.

This gives the video a narrative spine, not just repetition. Viewers aren't watching a list — they're watching a championship unfold.

The Payoff: Crowning the Champion

The Final Showdown

The last 2–3 combos go head-to-head in a climactic finale. By this point, the audience has invested in their favorites — the stakes feel genuinely high.

The winner isn't just announced. It's celebrated — with the energy of a tournament final, not a product review.

🏆 Mini World Cup Trophy

Physical, visual, meme-able. A prop that screams "screenshot this."

🎉 Over-the-Top Celebration

Tommy goes full stadium energy. The reaction becomes the moment audiences clip and share.

This Is the Viral Moment

The championship reveal is engineered for short-form cutdowns. It's the 10-second clip that lives on Reels and TikTok long after the full video fades.

Big emotion. Clear visual. Undeniable energy. That's the formula.

Why This Performs

Every element of this concept is optimized for platform performance — not by accident, but by design. The algorithm rewards exactly what this format delivers.

Built-In Curiosity Loop

"Which one wins?" is an unanswered question for the entire runtime. Viewers can't leave without knowing — and that drives completion rate through the roof.

Comment Bait by Design

Audience members will argue rankings, defend their favorite combos, and tag friends with opinions. The comment section becomes its own content engine.

Highly Rewatchable

The tournament format rewards rewatching. Viewers go back to catch reactions they missed. Second and third views spike the algorithm signals.

Escalation Keeps It Moving

Each round raises the stakes — more combos, stronger reactions, clearer favorites. The energy builds instead of flattening, keeping viewers locked in until the final reveal.

This is algorithm-friendly by design — not an afterthought retrofitted onto a brand brief.

Brand Fit

This concept is designed to feel completely native to Tommy Winkler's style while strategically elevating the Fernet-Branca brand. It leverages existing cultural touchpoints and repackages them for a new, broader audience.

The Ever-Present Star

Fernet-Branca is the undeniable constant across every single test. It's always on camera, always in hand, cementing its central role in the experience without ever feeling forced.

Leveraging Existing Rituals

The video taps into a real, existing drinking ritual—simple, repeatable, and inherently social. This already resonates with established U.S. customs, like "a shot and a beer" or the celebratory "end of shift, start of the night" moments.

Niche to Competitive

Tommy's format reframes this traditional ritual, transforming a niche habit into something highly discoverable and competitive. It invites viewers to explore the brand in an engaging, relatable way.

Net Effect: The content feels authentically Tommy's, but it introduces Fernet-Branca to a broader North American audience in a way that's easy to try, share, and repeat.

The Opportunity

The timing, the creator, the format, and the brand are all pointing in the same direction. This isn't a one-off branded video — it's the foundation of something bigger.

⏱️ Timed to World Cup Conversation

The cultural moment is already building. This video rides existing energy instead of trying to manufacture it from scratch.

🌍 Feels Global, Executes Simply

World Cup scale. One table, one creator, one question. The contrast between the epic premise and the simple execution is part of the charm.

🔁 Repeatable Format If Successful

This isn't a dead end. A proven format can return for future tournaments, seasons, or variations — building a recognizable series with an established audience expectation.

> "This could be one of Tommy's most recognizable formats." One collab, one concept, one championship — and a piece of content people remember.
